Removal Instructions

- Earnings will be calculated and removed in accordance with IRS regulations.
- Please verify the withdrawal provisions and conditions of your contract prior to making a selection. Make sure you understand the impact taking this withdrawal will have on your rider benefit values. Certain riders contain features that may be negatively impacted by taking a withdrawal.
- If your annuity has a withdrawal benefit rider with the Base Doubler feature, any withdrawal including excess removals prior to the Base Doubler effective date will permanently set the value of the Base Doubler to $0.
- For fixed index annuities: Any money withdrawn from a segment before its maturity date will not receive interest (including excess removals).
- If you have an annuity with a guaranteed withdrawal benefit rider and you take a withdrawal that is higher than the maximum guaranteed amount, it is considered an "excess withdrawal." An excess withdrawal could permanently decrease your guaranteed income and benefit values. If you would like to make a withdrawal and are uncertain of whether it would be considered an excess withdrawal or would like to see how an excess withdrawal will impact your future guaranteed income and benefit values, please call a Client Service Representative at 1-800-333-3437 to request a personalized calculation showing the effect of the withdrawal prior to submitting this request. If you do not contact us prior to submitting this form and the amount you have requested will result in an excess withdrawal, we will require that you complete the "Benefit Impact Acknowledgement Form" before processing can occur.

Part 6 Withholding Instructions

- Federal Withholding: You are liable for federal income tax on the taxable portion of your distribution. If total withholding is not adequate, you may be subject to estimated tax payments and/or penalties.
- 10% federal income tax will be withheld unless you make a different election below.
- State Withholding: Withholding rules vary by state. Clients may have the option to: (1) opt-out of withholding, (2) elect default state tax withholding, or (3) increase the rate of withholding. Depending on the state, state tax withholding could be mandatory, optional, unavailable, or the client may need to complete a state-specific form. For state tax withholding rules, go to riversource.com/statetax.
- Please note that taxes withheld per your elections or in accordance with state rules will not be refunded.
- For all tax-qualified annuities: Withholding is taken from the total amount distributed.
- Different withholding rules apply in certain situations: If we do not have a valid Taxpayer Identification Number on the account, if the payment is delivered outside the United States or if you are a non-resident alien.
- Please consult your tax professional for additional information regarding federal and/or state withholding.

Federal Withholding

- If you are under 59 ½ and your withdrawal includes taxable income, an IRS early withdrawal penalty may apply.
- 10% federal tax will be withheld from the conversion amount unless you make a different withholding election below.

Important IRS Federal Withholding changes

- Effective January 1, 2023, regulations require use of a Form W-4R, signed by the taxpayer or authorized signer, to choose a federal withholding standing election at a rate other than the default rate of 10%.
- If 10% withholding is not preferred, you may request 0% federal withholding without a Form W-4R by indicating your choice below.

For federal withholding rates other than 0% or the 10% default federal rate:

- The account's taxpayer may establish a federal withholding percentage using the W-4R Federal Withholding Instruction for RiverSource form (Form 117574). This form may be obtained at: riversource.com/forms.
- Do not attach a Form W-4R form to this distribution request. The Form W-4R must be on file with RiverSource before it can be used during a distribution.
- Current federal standing elections can be confirmed by contacting us.

Federal Tax withholding

- Withhold 0% federal tax
- Withhold 10% federal tax (If you check this box but already have a Form W-4R on file at RiverSource, the percent on your current Form W-4R will be used for processing the distribution.)
- Withhold at the rate on the Form W-4R already on file with RiverSource (If this box is checked and no Form W-4R is on file for this percentage, RiverSource must withhold the 10% default federal tax.)

NOTE: If you would like to withhold at a different rate than what is already on file with RiverSource, you must submit a new Form W-4R prior to submitting this distribution; do not attach a Form W-4R to this distribution request.

State Withholding

- If you don't indicate an election, we'll generally follow your choice for federal election unless your state doesn't allow.
 - No state tax withholding will be taken for states where withholding is not available.
 - The taxpayer's resident state on file is the state we use for state tax withholding.
- Do no withhold state tax Withhold default state tax Withhold % state tax

- To remove an excess SEP contribution, complete Sections 1, 3, 5, 6, and 7.

Part 1

Type or print your information as the client.

Part 2 -- General Information About Excess Contributions to Traditional IRAs or Roth IRAs

- A. Indicate the dollar amount of the excess contribution you want to remove from your IRA.
- B. Indicate the year the excess amount was deposited into your IRA.
- C. Indicate the tax year for which you intended the excess contribution. (Note: If your excess contribution is the result of an ineligible rollover or transfer, then in essence, the ineligible amount is treated as a regular (active) IRA contribution for the year in which the excess amount was deposited into your IRA).
- D. If this form is being completed after the income tax return due date (April 15) for the tax year for which the excess contribution was made, then indicate whether you have filed for an extension or intend to file an amended return pursuant to IRS Regulation §301.9100-2. Also indicate whether the total dollar amount of contributions (not including eligible rollover contributions) to all of your IRAs for that tax year (the tax year for which you intended the contribution to be), was more than the annual contribution limit.
- Excess Contribution: Generally, an excess IRA contribution is the amount contributed to an IRA that is not eligible to be in the IRA. An excess contribution can occur under a variety of situations.
 - 6% Excise Tax on Excess Contributions: You must pay a 6% excise tax on the excess amount for each year it remains in your IRA at the close of the tax year. The tax cannot be more than 6% of the value of your IRA as of the end of your tax year. The excise tax is figured on IRS Form 5329.
 - Tax Statements: You will receive IRS Form 1099-R (Distributions From Pensions, Annuities, Retirement or Profit-Sharing Plans, IRAs, Insurance Contracts, etc.) indicating the amount withdrawn from your IRA and the taxable earnings (if applicable). You will also receive IRS Form 5498 (IRA Contribution Information) which will include the excess contribution amount. The IRS requires us to report on Form 5498 the gross amount of your IRA contributions for each tax year, even if that amount includes an excess which you later removed or redesignated to another tax year.
 - Tax Treatment: If removed prior to the tax return due date, the excess contribution is includible in your income for the year for which the excess contribution was made and must be reported as wages on your IRS Form 1040 for that year. The earnings are includible in your income for the year for which the excess contribution plus earnings is removed. If you are under age 59½, the earnings, not the excess contribution, may be subject to the IRS premature distribution penalty. If removed after the tax return due date, the excess contribution is includible in your income for the year for which the excess contribution was made and must be reported as wages on your IRS Form 1040 for that year. The distribution of the excess contribution may also be included in income and subject to the 10% premature penalty tax. The earnings do not have to be distributed. In addition, you may owe a 6% excise tax on the excess contribution. Refer to IRS Form 5329 for reporting and paying the excise tax if it applies.

For more information regarding excess contributions to your Traditional IRAs or Roth IRAs, please refer to "A Guide to Your RiverSource Life IRA" or IRS Publication 590.

Part 3 -- General Information About Excess Contributions to SEP IRAs

- Your employer is required to notify you of an excess contribution within 2½ months following the close of the plan year. The notice must disclose to you the amount and type of the excess SEP contribution, the calendar year in which the excess contribution must be includible in gross income, and the date by which the excess contribution must be withdrawn. Refer to your Employer's notice when completing this section of the form.
- Excess SEP contributions can occur in three ways:
 - (1) All contributions, including any salary deferral contributions, exceed annual limits for the year.
 - (2) Average Deferral Percentage (ADP) non-discrimination test failure by the SEP-IRA plan.
 - (3) Disallowed deferral -- less than 50% of employees under the plan elected to defer.
- Additional information about excess contributions can be found in "A Guide to Your RiverSource Life IRA" and IRS Publication 590.
